The Company has been established in Italy 15 years ago by three entrepreneurs with more than 20 years overseas experience in managing and directing a wide range of Construction Projects.

Located in the North of Italy, FOVI srl activities spread from industrial to tourist e/o residential projects. The Company profile increased through the past years, achieving a leader role as International Management Company in the region.

FOVI has been involved in several construction projects throughout Asia, America, Africa and Middle East Countries, both with public or private clients. At the present it is involved in Central America and Asia with two residential projects.

Although the Company prefers "turn Key" type of projects, also provide other services related to the Industry as survey, design, contract management, work supervision and project management.

Fields of activities that have seen the Company covering a primary role are Environmental Engineering, Hydraulic Engineering and Infrastructure Projects.

The management staff, engineers and technicians, including 30 skilled supervisors, are our proud and the assurance to the field success.

The experience, the dedication, the application of the most modern technologies and the dedicated staff made FOVI srl a reliable partner for any projects around the world.
